Taking advantage of this big international event, the Chamber of commerce of Turin and Unioncamere Piemonte are organising a brokerage event aiming at facilitating the cooperation opportunities between research & business through planned bilateral meetings. The one to one meetings are primarily aiming at encouraging the building of consortia to participate in projects co-financed by the 7 Framework Programme (FP7), the main financial tool to support research and development activities in Europe. The brokerage event is a unique opportunity for companies, research centres and universities to meet potential partners for research projects, cooperation agreements and technology transfer.

Target audience

The participation at the brokerage event offers a unique opportunity to companies, research centres, Universities and private researchers willing to:

- present their technologies/project ideas/services
- look for new technologies and solutions
- set up quality consortia for FP7 calls
- meet potential co-operation partners for European R&D projects

How it works

- On line registration and profile submission:
www.esof2010.org/speeddating
» deadline: 7th June 2010
- On line selection of the counterparts you are willing to meet
» deadline: 14th June 2010
- A few days before the event you will receive your personal meeting plan
- Bilateral meetings: 6th July 2010
» costs: free of charge
» working language: English

Main topics covered

Because of the multi-sector approach of ESOF2010, the brokerage event will be addressed to cooperation profiles covering all thematic programmes of FP7:

- Health
- Environment
- Energy
- Transport
- ICT
- Space
- Security
- Food, Agriculture, Biotechnologies
- Socio-economic sciences and Humanities
- Nanosciences, nanotechnologies, materials and new production technologies

Other initiatives

Research cocktail reception

The evening before the brokerage event, participants will be offered an aperitif at Museo Regionale di Scienze Naturali in via Giolitti 36 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Guests will be listening to interesting interviews dealing with following issue: "Research and Business: communication, a springboard to innovation".

FP7 Information Desk

During the European Research & Business Speed Dating, participants will have the chance of getting promotional material and information on FP7.
